

GPET Convention

29 July 2009

Stall Owners Wanted! - Ideas Marketplace entries close 31 July

Do you have an issue or idea relating to general practice education and training? Then put it forward for this fantastic plenary session and be part of the solution.

The Ideas Marketplace is a uniquely styled plenary session that will run on day two of the GPET Convention. A limited number of market stalls, each representing an idea for discussion, will be plotted throughout the convention venue creating a marketplace of ideas. Delegates will have the opportunity to wander through the marketplace and visit as many stalls as they wish; giving them the opportunity to get involved in innovative discussion about the future of medical education.

Click here to download the Marketplace flyer and application form. Applications close this Friday, 31 July.

'A Day in the Life of AGPT' – Photo Competition

We want to see what 'A day in the life of AGPT' means to you! Delegates are invited to enter the GPET Convention Amateur Photographic Competition. Entries could capture any element of theme including teaching, learning, innovation, creativity in education and training, or how you sustain your passion for general practice. With a first prize of $500 and second prize of $250 you'd be silly not to enter. Finalists will be exhibited at the Convention with the winner judged by delegates.

Click here to find out more and download an entry form.

Convention Dinner Theme – Art

The theme of this year's Convention Dinner is 'Art' – come along dressed as someone or something with the word 'Art' in its name. The GPET Convention Dinner is always an entertaining event and one not to be missed. Half the fun of the evening is admiring the fabulous and wacky costumes of all those in attendance, so get into the spirit and dress to the theme. There are endless artists and works of art to imitate or perhaps you may consider DArth Vader, Dean MArtin, Humphrey BogArt, June CArter or MArtin Van Buren just to name a few.

GPET Award Nominations – Thank You

GPET would like to thank all those who submitted nominations for the 2009 GPET Awards. We received 70 nominations across the seven categories – all for outstanding contributions relating to the AGPT program. The awards will be presented at the opening of the Convention on Wednesday morning, 2 September, at the Hilton Adelaide. For more information about the awards, sponsors and prizes click here.

For more information please contact Lauren Kennelly or go to the Convention Website