

2019 Program Eligibility Guide—AGPT

The flowchart below can be used to determine eligibility for entry into the 2019 AGPT Program.

† AHPRA: Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency

This diagram shows prospective applicants how to self-assess their eligibility against the four criteria, for entry into the 2019 AGPT Program. The four eligibility criteria are: citizenship, primary medical qualification, medical registration and other training programs.

Citizenship Criteria Questions:

Is the applicant currently an Australian or New Zealand citizen or Australian permanent resident, or will they be by 30 November 2018?

- If the answer is yes, then the applicant must answer the questions in the primary medical qualification section.
- If the answer is no, is the applicant a temporary resident who obtained their primary medical qualification in Australia or New Zealand, and is currently applying for, or intending to apply for Australian permanent residency?
- If the answer is yes, then the applicant must answer the questions in the Medical Registration section
- If the answer is no, then the applicant is not eligible to apply.

Primary Medical Qualification Criteria Questions:

Did the applicant receive their primary medical qualification in Australia or New Zealand?

- If the answer is yes then the applicant must complete the question in the medical registration criteria.
- If the answer is no, is the applicant an Australian Medical Council (AMC) graduate who has successfully completed all elements of the AMC, and will receive their AMC certificate by 30 November 2018?
- If the answer is yes – then the applicant must complete the question in the medical registration criteria.

If the applicant did not obtain their primary medical qualification in Australia or New Zealand or is not an AMC graduate, will the applicant have completed the competent authority pathway via the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA) by 30 November 2018?

- If the answer is yes then the applicant must complete the question in the medical registration criteria.
- If the answer is no then the applicant is not eligible.

Medical Registration Criteria Questions:

Does the applicant expect to have general medical registration without conditions or undertakings in Australia by the commencement of the 2019 training year?

- If the answer is yes, the applicant must answer the questions in the other training programs section.
- If the answer is no, the applicant is advised to contact the AGPT Eligibility team on 1800 37 2478.

Other Training Programs Criteria Questions:

Is the applicant enrolled in any other specialist vocational training programs (including the AGPT Program)?

- If the answer is yes – then the applicant must contact the AGPT Eligibility team on 1800 37 2478.
- If the answer is no then the applicant appears to be eligible.
